(d) The Government intends to evaluate offers and award a contract without discussions with offerors. Therefore, the offeror's initial offer should contain the offeror's best terms from a price and technical standpoint. However, the Government reserves the right to conduct discussions if later determined by the Contracting Officer to be necessary. The Government may reject any or all offers if such action is in the public interest; accept other than the lowest offer; and waive informalities and minor irregularities in offers received.

2. Offer must agree with all terms, conditions, and provisions included in the solicitation. Offers that fail to furnish required representations or information, or reject the terms and conditions of the solicitation may be excluded from consideration.

Addendum to FAR 52.212-2, Evaluation -- Commercial Items

1. An initial review of proposals will be conducted to determine acceptability of the proposals in accordance with NFS 1815.305-70, Identification of Unacceptable Proposals. An offeror whose proposal does not comply with the solicitation submittal requirements may be determined unacceptable. All unacceptable proposals will be eliminated from further evaluation.

2. The Government will award a contract resulting from this solicitation to the responsible offeror whose offer conforms to the solicitation and that will be most advantageous to the Government, price and other factors considered. The following factors shall be used to evaluate offers:

   Technical Requirements
   Past Performance
   Price

   Technical Requirements and past performance, when combined, are significantly more important when compared to price.

   (a) Technical Requirements:

   The Technical Requirements rating for award of the contract will consist of evaluation of the offerors submitted documentation and a pre-award inspection of the aircraft and its maintenance records.

   NASA will evaluated the offerors submitted documentation to determine the aircrafts ability to meet or exceed the requirements of the attached SOW. Offerors that do not meet or exceed the requirements of the SOW will not be considered for award. NASA will not perform a pre-award inspection on offerors that do not meet or exceed the requirements of SOW.

   After preliminary consideration of all offers that meet or exceed the requirements of the SOW, NASA will review the additional equipment and interior features and identify offerors whose proposed aircraft are suitable to the user. NASA will perform a pre-award inspection of the aircrafts that have been selected as suitable by the user.

   The pre-award inspection will consist of an inspection of the aircraft and its maintenance records to verify that the aircraft equipment, condition, and maintenance records comply with the requirements of the SOW. Inspection findings of incomplete and/or inaccurate maintenance records, evidence of unusual recurring maintenance problems/issues or evidence of ongoing or frequently recurring fluid leaks (fuel, hydraulics, water, etc.) may result in an aircraft being considered as unacceptable. Unacceptable aircraft will not be considered for award.

(b) Past Performance

The offeror's past performance record will be evaluated and assigned a rating of acceptable or unacceptable. The evaluation will consider past performance information obtained from the Governmentwide Past Performance Information Retrieval System and/or any/other reasonable basis. An offeror that is rated unacceptable will not be considered for award.

(c) Price:

Price will be evaluated for reasonableness by comparing the proposed prices received in response to the solicitation.

(d) Basis for Award:

The Government will award a contract resulting from the RFP to the responsible offeror using the best value continuum where Technical Requirements and Past Performance are significantly more important when compared to price. By submission of its offer, the offeror accedes to all RFP requirements, including terms and conditions, representations and certifications, in addition to those identified as evaluation factors.

3. A written notice of award or acceptance of an offer, mailed or otherwise furnished to the successful offeror within the time for acceptance specified in the offer, shall result in a binding contract without further action by either party. Before the offer's specified expiration time, the Government may accept an offer (or part of an offer), whether or not there are negotiations after its receipt, unless a written notice of withdrawal is received before award.

Offeror shall include a completed copy of the provision at 52.212-3, Offeror Representations and Certifications -- Commercial Items, with its offer.
